

IT built on your vision.

With the right partner, IT is no small wonder.

▲ Your classrooms work the way you've always envisioned. Your lessons go according to plan.

At Vartek, we believe technology should only bring good surprises. We call that inspiration. Our IT experts are here to help you create those moments, when your learning tools don't just work—they work for you. When you see that look on your student's face, and everything clicks.

Look here.

And you'll see where information turns into knowledge.

Picture this: your ideal classroom.

We're here to help you realize your school's technology vision, ensuring every program, device, and tool makes it possible. Don't have a vision? Don't worry—we'll handle the technology, so you can focus on who matters most.

Student Achievement

When every piece is in place, your students become next-generation learners.

Technology Integration

Professional development and coaching for teachers to increase students' use of technology.

Technology Implementation

IT support and project management to turn your technology vision into a reality.

IT Leadership

Clear, effective guidance, based on decades of experience and the industry's best practices.

How we can work with you.

IT Managed Services

Welcome a brand-new technology department. When it's time for a change, and you need proven outcomes and support you can depend on. We'll give you a comprehensive, tailored IT plan, staffing your school with a full team of on-site professionals, implementing the latest technology, and helping teachers integrate new tools into their classrooms.

IT Specific Services

Assess and improve your technology performance. We'll evaluate your current IT strategies and capabilities, tailoring insights and data to increase your school's effectiveness. When you have short- or long-term talent issues or need help plugging in specific skillsets to your current team, we can provide qualified team members to fill those gaps.

IT. It's personal.

We believe that technology is about more than tools that work. It's about the support of experts who understand the classroom environment.

It's about partners who know what it takes to make learning happen. At Vartek, we're IT people—support specialists, solution tailors, technicians, strategists, managers, and educators—all here to help you feel confident and to empower the incredible teaching that can take place only when you believe in your technology.

Technology Directors and Coordinators

Our dedicated senior-level leaders deal with strategic guidance, budget help, and planning to make sure you never lose sight of your technology vision.

Classroom Technology Coaches

Former educators and tech enthusiasts, our CTCs help teachers build IT competence and confidence, turning new tools into engaging learning opportunities for students.

Technology Support Specialists

Our help desk technicians, administrators, and engineers start with understanding. Keeping your tech running smoothly begins with building trust.

Technology built for you, and for the people they will become.
